February 12, 2021

Dear Parents,

As per the instructions in the letter from Kathleen Finnigan, Superintendent, our entire school population is now moving to online learning for the week of February 22-26. Starting on Monday, February 22, our students will be following a new class timetable that will require them to attend a minimum of 13 required whole class Google Meets throughout the week. These Google Meets will take place in Math, Language Arts, Science, Social Studies, Religion and Physical Education. Both you and your child will receive your child's new class schedule for the week from your child's homeroom teacher via email before the end of the day Friday, February 12th. Please note that your child's timetable includes a daily schedule that we are encouraging your child to follow in an effort to remain organized and engaged in their school work. Their daily schedule includes allocated time for required Google Meets, Independent Work, Lunch, Teacher Office Hours and time on Wednesdays to work on the optional exploratory challenges that are offered. Please be aware that many teachers may require your child to be online for additional one on one or small group meets at their discretion. This school wide approach to online learning has been designed based on extensive feedback from students, parents and teachers. As you know, we have been forced to continually adjust our approach to online learning to accommodate various degrees of school closure in December/January, last week with our grade 6 and 7 classes and now for the upcoming week of February 22-26. We appreciate your flexibility as we have responded to the numerous factors that have impacted our ability to offer this unique programming.

It is very important that your child engage in their learning throughout the week of February 22-26 as our teachers will continue to move forward with required curriculum outcomes. Thank-you for your continued support as we continue to navigate these uncertain times and have a great weekend.

Yours in Christ,
